509 Residents Donate to Stop Child Abuse

More than 50,000 cases of child abuse and neglect are reported in Michigan annually and Crawford County has a high rate for its population.

The Children's Trust Fund (CTF) is a private, non-profit organization administered by a board appointed by the governor, dedicated to the prevention of child abuse and neglect.

CTF's primary source of funding comes from Michigan taxpayers who check the CTF box on their annual state income tax returns. Both taxpayers who are receiving a refund and those who are not getting money back can contribute through their tax forms.

In 1989 the Crawford-Roscommon Child Protection Council received $2,456.01 from CTF and was able to present child abuse programs to elementary and middle school aged children in the Crawford/AuSable School District. The C.O.O.R. Intermediate School District also used a CTF grant to fund its parenting classes. The council has already received notification that for 1990, their funding is going to be cut to $1,938.77.

Each county in Michigan receives at least $1,000 from CTF. The remaining money is distributed according to the number of people in each county who contribute to the fund by checking the box.

Last year 509 Crawford County residents checked the CTF box on their income tax return which equated to $141.88 in additional funding.

Pipebomb Found In Railroad Car

A pipebomb was found by a Weyerhaeuser employee in an empty railroad boxcar at the plant on Four Mile Road on Monday night, Feb. 12. The area was secured by Crawford County Sheriff deputies and Lt. James Bergland from the Michigan State Police Crime Lab in Grayling was called to the scene. He was assisted by Sgt. Jim Sullivan, also from the Grayling lab, and Sgt. John Wilmer from the Bridgeport Crime Lab. The bomb technicians verified that it was a functional pipebomb.

A state police robot was used to transport the bomb into the Weyerhaeuser wood yard where it was detonated at about 5 a.m. without incident or injury.

The bomb was first found by an employee of Weyerhaeuser as he went into a Detroit & Mackinaw boxcar to prepare it for loading. He saw the device and carried it out. When the employee got it out into the light, he noticed its peculiarities and what he thought might be a fuse and immediately left it alone.

Rodger Anger, General Manager of the Grayling Weyerhaeuser Company, said all employees were cleared from the area and the on-shift team leader kept the area secure until the police arrived.

According to the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. it is unknown at this time how the bomb got into the boxcar. The boxcar was last in Greenbay, Wisconsin, and then was transported to Weyerhaeuser for loading.

Anyone with information on how the bomb got into the boxcar is asked to contact the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. at 348-6341.

Lovells Targeted As 'Hot' Spot for Drilling

Lovells Township is one of Michigan's hottest spots for deep gas exploration according to Michigan's Oil & Gas News (MOGN), a leading publication in the field. Lovells Township currently has three gas producers and two more are planned.

Roger Lintemuth, MOGN Associate Editor, stated in his Jan. 26th article that in 1989 Crawford County climbed to the third spot on the Permit-by-County list with 26. The 16 holes drilled during the year in Crawford County was surpassed by only three other counties.

Deep gas production from Ordovician rock in the Michigan Basin and the shallow Antrim Formation shale gas production centered around Otsego County has been encouraging to an otherwise bleak national exploration picture.

Lintemuth wrote that Crawford County had missed most of the deep gas action until Shell Western E&P, Inc. made its discovery in Lovells Township in 1988. In early 1989, PetroStar Energy and Wolverine Environmental Production found Antrim gas in Maple Forest Township, signaling the potential for more shallower attention.

According to MOGN further deep exploration will be encouraged by the construction of a pipeline to serve deep gas reserves in the eastern and northeastern portions of the Michigan Basin.

The article stated that Crawford County may never see the kind of intensive drilling that has occurred in Otsego County (565 holes were drilled in 1989), but the four wells completed to date had test output of 60, 74, 34 and 30 Mcf (thousand cubic feet gas) per day which Lintemuth wrote is similar to early production rates of many Otsego Antrim wells.

According to the report, MOGN ranked Crawford County 11th in gas production among Michigan counties and 12th for oil output. The periodical credited the county with nearly a 70 percent success rate, 207 successful wells in 296 attempts.

The Beaver Creek Field, discovered in 1947 and converted to a secondary recovery water-flood project in 1963, has been the greatest gas and oil producer in Crawford County.

The gas from the Beaver Creek Richfield wells was marketed by pipeline to Dow Chemical. The field started with Pure Oil Company, a predecessor of UNOCAL, produced 120 barrels of oil per day. Today, more than 150 wells have been drilled with 100 operating. According to MOGN, recovery per acre through 1986 was 3,310 barrels per acre.

Frederic Township has the greatest number of fields. Niagaran pinnacle reefs were discovered in the area in 1971 by the Shell Oil Company. The field has proven to be a top Niagaran producer.

With all this activity Crawford County remains unexplored to a great degree, only one hole for each two square miles, which is deceptive because approximately 150 of the total drill sites are involved in the Beaver Creek Field.

Four thousand acres of leases in Crawford County will go up for bid at the state's March 19th sale. Artillery range activities associated with the National Guard and the Kirtland Warbler nesting areas will present some hurdles to oil and gas development, but the MOGN article stated that "recent success may lure more and more explorationists to help make Crawford County one of Michigan's (and the nation's) hot-spots."

No Environmental Problems Expected

Military Testing Brings In $298,000

The Chicken Little Project sounds like something from a children's book, like Henny Penny or the Little Engine That Could. But actually it is the code name for a joint U.S. Air Force/U.S. Army Smart Munitions Evaluation Program that the military says could bring in nearly $3 million to northern Michigan.

LTC Wayne Koppa, Camp Grayling Commander, stated at a press conference held Thursday, February 8, at the National Guard Armory, that the research and development (R&D) program poses no significant environmental concerns, has the potential of bringing nearly $3 million dollars to northern Michigan, and most of that money will stay in the Grayling area. (See financial breakdown in boxed area.)

The purpose of the R&D testing program is to evaluate sensors that can automatically detect and track targets on a battlefield. The testing will take place at Camp Grayling's Range 30 from Feb. 12 to March 30.

According to a media fact sheet, during test missions, vehicles will be placed in stationary or moving patterns along the back roads on the range which run mainly in a north to south direction. Aircraft with seekers/sensors mounted to the underbelly of the aircraft will fly back and forth over the vehicles (tanks mainly) for periods of an hour or two. The actual time of each flight will be governed by the length of the data recorded. The data collected will aid in the development of improved seekers/sensors that, when mounted on the top of military vehicles, will help protect the top and hatch portion of the vehicle under battlefield conditions from all types of airborne warheads.

No explosives or weapons will be tested by Chicken Little II this winter.

Once again Camp Grayling was selected for the tests because of its environmental similarity to a central European winter. During the test period, meteorological measurements will be taken as well as measurements on variations in the snow cover, vegetation and terrain.

This information will be combined with the data obtained by the seekers/sensors to evaluate the performance of the system over the full range of conditions encountered during the test.

The tests will include the use of low-level lasers which are to be operated only over the approved hazard zone within the fenced area of Range 30 (north of North Down River Road) that is currently under a closure order by DNR Director David Hales. An additional strip of land next to the south side of the fenced area will also be restricted to public access during this year's Chicken Little II testing period. Officials said this restriction is not so much for safety concerns, but because of the security classifications of some of the test equipment being used. This restricted area is described as the military land bordered on the North by Range 30 fenced area, the South by North Down River Road, the West by the new Camp Grayling Mobilization and Training Equipment Site (MATES) and on the East by the private land bordering Stephens Bridge Road. The area will be posted and patrolled. It will be restricted only during testing periods.

LTC Dennis VanLiere, USAF, Deputy Director of the Joint Munitions Test and Evaluation Program, from Eglin AFB, Florida, stated that personnel inside the fenced in area will be wearing protective glasses and that both stationary and roving guards would be in strategic areas to insure that civilians and unauthorized personnel are kept out of the test area.

LTC Koppa said the lasers are dangerous only if a person were to look directly into the beam. "And the chances on anyone looking directly into a laser has been compared to having an airplane drop on a person," he said.

Constant radio contact between an aircraft controller and the pilots will be maintained during laser operations so that laser operations can be terminated immediately should any unsafe conditions be observed.

Flight operations have been carefully planned to insure that helicopters will remain entirely over the range during missions and fixed-wing aircraft will fly in patterns which will, as much as possible, avoid populated areas. The fixed-wing aircraft will be a civilian-type aircraft purchased by the Department of Military Affairs for testing purposes.

LTC Tim Everett said that Project Chicken Little I was tested at Camp Grayling two years ago as part of Camp Grayling's research and development program. He said two primary factors are always considered before Camp Grayling approves an R&D project. The first elimination factor is environmental concerns and the second is the project's training impact.

"There are a number of other factors that are also considered," he stated, "but if the R&D does not meet the first two they are automatically eliminated."

Environmental evaluations of the project concluded that Chicken Little II activities were so similar to normal Camp Grayling training activities that there was no significant cause for environmental concern. Continued on page 5

Census Turns April First Into Serious Day

April 1st may be April Fool's Day but it will be a serious day this year in Crawford County. That's the day the 1990 Census will be conducted.

City, County, and Township officials are trying to show county residents how important the census is.

For every 100 residents not counted in the census, local governments miss out on $24,700 state and federal funds a year, based on 1988 figures from NEMCOG (Northeast Michigan Council of Governments).

Grayling City Manager Jerry Morford said the 1980 Census missed hundreds of people in the city of Grayling.

"The 1980 Census put our population at 1,792 -- a decrease from 1970 and 1960," said Morford. "I believe our 1980 population was closer to 2,500."

"The census people did a bad job in 1980," said county commissioner Jeannette Kitchen. "There were entire subdivisions missed. If you figure an average of four to a household, that

DEADLY TIME—DNR Conservation Officer Bruce Patrick shows a deer that was being eaten alive by 2 pet dogs off Wilcox Bridge Rd.

Dogs Use Crusted Snow To Chase, Kill Deer

The killing field, as DNR Conservation Officer Bruce Patrick put it, was about 50 yards long where blood and fur marked the hard snow.

"You could see where the two dogs chased the deer back and forth," he said. "The deer would back up to a tree to try to protect itself but the dogs kept attacking."

The two small black labradors chewed off the deer's tail, broke its leg, and were eating at the deer's hind quarters and throat while the deer was still alive.

The deer was trying to crawl under a travel trailer when a resident called the dogs off and notified Patrick.

The deer was still alive when Patrick arrived, but with the injuries, he had to shoot it.

"It was a healthy deer with no problems before the dog attack," said Patrick. "This is the worst time of the year for dogs running deer," he said.

With the hard crust, dogs can race over the top of the snow. Deer will more often fall through and have to spend lots of energy to run from dogs. Dogs can tire out deer in a short time. It's usually not wild dogs chasing after deer. "Housepets are the worst offenders," said Patrick. "I've seen beagles, poodles, dogs of all sizes."

Crawford County has about 10 reported cases a year of dogs killing deer. Patrick said there may be 10 to 20 times that amount of cases they don't know about.

Dogs must be kept under control year-round by law. This time of year, it's especially important to keep the dog in sight at all times. One dog alone is capable of chasing down a deer and crippling or killing it.

The owner of the two black labs was found and charged with allowing the dogs to run loose. In addition to that offense, dog owners can also be responsible for paying restitution to the state at a cost of $1,000 for each deer.

"No one thinks their dog can do this. But if your dog goes away from the house, chances are there will be problems with running deer," said Patrick.

Law enforcement officers are authorized to shoot any dogs endangering wildlife. Individuals are not authorized to shoot dogs. Residents may call the DNR office or the Sheriff Dept. if they see dogs running deer.

MercyCare Clinic Changes Hours

Hours at the MercyCare Clinic at Mercy Hospital/Grayling have changed to reflect the requests of parents and adults who have often waited until 5 p.m. to seek treatment at MercyCare.

MercyCare Clinic is now open between the hours of 8 a.m. and noon on weekdays, and from noon to 11 p.m. on weekends and holidays. MercyCare Clinic was designed in 1984 to provide prompt, quality medical care for patients whose illness is not life threatening. MercyCare services are provided in the Emergency Department at a rate lower than emergency fees. "Patients with minor illnesses such as urine infections, fever and earaches have traditionally had to wait long hours in the emergency department while persons with more serious injuries were treated first," said Alan Bersted, M.D., Emergency Department Medical Director at Mercy Hospital/Grayling.

"With the new hours, MercyCare patients will often be treated in less time because the Emergency Department is considerably less hectic during the morning hours."

MercyCare is located in the Emergency Department at Mercy Hospital and is staffed by the emergency department physician and nurses. Eligibility for MercyCare is determined by the physician. Patients requiring lab tests or x-rays, except for urinalysis or quick strep screens, are not eligible for the Clinic. Patients treated in the clinic will be referred back to their family physician for follow-up care as necessary. MercyCare personnel will assist patients in finding a local physician if they don't have one.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

One of the things we enjoyed when we were kids was putting up ice time. At that time Frederic had a couple of ice houses, one was at Harry Higgen's store and one at the AuSable Hotel. There may have been others but I don't remember them. They would hire someone to keep part of May Lake cleaned off so the ice could freeze nice and clear without any snow layers. When the ice was about two foot thick they would hire men to saw the ice into about two foot squares. A couple of men who had teams and sleighs would be hired to haul ice. Us kids liked to ride on the sleighs back and forth to the lake. The blocks of ice were laid in layers and sawdust was used to pack around each block to keep it from melting. Before the days of electric refrigeration, ice was the only way we had of cooling and keeping food. In those days men looked forward to a chance to work a few days getting the ice up.

Not too many years ago Camp Grayling had a big ice house that they hired a few men to help fill. It supplied the ice used by the troops that trained there. The job of issuing ice was the most sought after job at camp. The ice house was cool on those hot summer days.

One thing I miss seeing here in town is the display the northern lights used to put on once in a while. Up on the farm there was not much light to interfere with watching their display. I have always been fascinated by the light show they put on. I remember a friend and I were up in Canada moose hunting and we both sat outside for hours at night watching the brilliant colors that seemed to fill the northern skies. We had never seen them show such sharp colors before. I had seen them quite often but never with the clarity we enjoyed up in Canada. As Robert Service wrote in the poem, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew": "While high overhead, green, yellow, and red, the north lights swept in bars."

I guess science has figured out just what causes them. But I like the reason Mother gave when as a child, I asked her. "It's light coming through the stained glass windows of Heaven." I like to think she was right.

Notes from the Woods

By Nancy Lemmen

Last August, I wrote about the decimation of the African elephant population due to illegal ivory trade. Just months ago, the Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) projected this animal species might totally disappear from the face of the earth by the late 1990s.

According to the World Wildlife Fund (WWF), of the 1.5 million elephants in Africa in 1979, fewer than 700,000 remain today. The HSUS estimated that only 400,000 are left.

What a bleak future for this most noble of beasts: to sacrifice their species so that their ivory tusks might be fashioned into trinkets and decorations for us humans.

However, today -- six months later -- I have some better news to report. Last October, 92 members of the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species (CITES) decided to ban international trade in elephant ivory. The total ban went into effect on January 18 of this year.

For two weeks over 800 delegates, representing member countries and dozens of nongovernmental organizations, met in Lausanne, Switzerland, to discuss the implications of international commercial trade for over 300 plant and animal species. Debates were heated, reports WWF, especially those on the African elephant and the ivory trade.

Last summer 90 percent of the ivory trade had been shut down temporarily with import bans enacted by European countries, Hong Kong, Japan, the United States and many other nations. The CITES decision made this ban permanent.

Nevertheless, the decision was not unanimous. Six African nations opposed it and three -- Botswana, Mozambique and Zimbabwe -- said they would file a legal motion to exempt themselves from the ban. Also, China was the only ivory consuming nation to vote against the ban.

"While we would have preferred the unanimous support of African nations, we were delighted to see nearly worldwide consensus that the ivory trade must be completely shut down," said Curtis Bohlen, senior vice president of the WWF and its head delegate to CITES.

Even Japan, the world's leading consumer of ivory, announced full compliance with the decision. "The conference decision sends a clear signal around the world that ivory trade is finished -- legal trade will no longer provide cover for poached ivory," added Bohlen.

That's the good news. But the reality is that the African elephant cannot save itself. Concluded Bohlen, "Now that the ban is fact, it is incumbent upon developed countries to provide substantial financial assistance to African wildlife departments for elephant conservation."

U.S. citizens may be ready for the challenge. The WWF alone reports that its televised African Elephant Campaign, launched last September on The Discovery Channel, resulted in 13,000 calls and over $290,000 in pledges by concerned individuals.

WWF members, numbering over 687,000 in the U.S. and over 3,000,000 worldwide, deluged Congress with 30,000 postcards voicing their concern about the African elephant and pressuring Congress to support elephant conservation efforts.

Perhaps a contribution or a postcard from you was among them.

Perhaps you made a commitment to stop supporting the ivory trade. If so, then you should know the following information, compiled by WWF elephant experts:

*It is illegal to bring ivory into the United States. However, buying and selling ivory and other elephant products in the U.S. is permissible.

*Owning elephant ivory and other products is still legal.

*Importing elephant products gained from sport hunting is illegal.

*Beware of products labeled "mammoth ivory". Several tons of mammoth ivory are discovered each year in the Antarctic and made into ivory products. They look and feel like elephant ivory and are legally imported into the U.S. Some experts believe that illegal traffickers may try to label elephant ivory as mammoth ivory to move it into the country.

*When in doubt, don't buy ivory of any kind.

According to WWF, the ban on African elephant ivory is a major victory for Tanzania and other countries in east and west Africa, which sought the action to help them protect their dwindling elephant populations.

If it is successful in getting the African elephant off the endangered species list, then it will be a major victory for all nations of the world.

But many other conservation challenges remain. The Asian tiger, the one-horned greater rhino, the Himalayan snow leopard, the giant panda, the tropical rain forests, the world's oceans.

The list alone goes on and on. Take your pick. Then do something. Write a postcard. Send a check. Launch a boycott. What we do about conservation in the 1990s will in large part determine the world we have created for ourselves for the next century.

Aircraft Carrier Tour Shows Technology, Readiness of Military

Mr. Editor:

The following might be captioned "Pride of Grandparents".

On Jan. 19 we received a call from our grandson, Scott, whose ship, the aircraft carrier USS Kennedy, had docked at Mayport Naval Station near Jacksonville.

Scott's parents, the John H. Howes of Stephan Bridge Road and North Down River Road, also received a call from Scott.

On Saturday we drove up and spent the day with him, and since he also had Sunday off, we stayed over Saturday night.

On Sunday we were treated to a complete tour of the ship with Scott as our guide and found him well informed.

(It was obvious he had done his homework). We were taken through the ship's operations including the aircraft launch and recovery sections. The aircraft maintenance operations, the way the ship is set up to protect itself as well as the other ships in the task force, and how the radar is used to launch rockets and direct the fire from the aircraft after being airborne.

Also, we were conducted through the control rooms, the pilot's briefing room and while there we met a number of the members of Scott's squadron. The officers took pains to explain the operation as we went from one area to the next.

Having been on the USS New Mexico after enlisting in the Navy in 1939, it was astounding how the technology has changed since my time. My wife, having never seen a capitol ship before, was amazed.

In the Con room sits the captain's throne and we do mean "throne". From the uppermost part of the ship, the captain and other persons can direct others in the force and aircraft at will. The Kennedy has its own radar planes as well as its own helicopters.

Scott has an older brother, John H. Howe, III, who is also in the Navy and who is attached to the Kitty Hawk, another aircraft carrier, and who is at this time in Memphis, Tennessee. He was on the USS Kitty Hawk during the Libyan problem, in the Indian Ocean.

Another Grandson, Micheal A. Henschen, who is the son of our daughter, Lani Henschen, lives with her family, at New Knoxville, Ohio. He is attached to a tank force in Germany at this time.

After 48 years of marriage, five of us, four grandchildren, and five great grandchildren, we are proud to have had this opportunity to see how "children" are treated while serving their, and our country.

In this new age of military readiness and changing technology, its gratifying to see that the Kennedy is, indeed, "ready".

Campaign treasures bulging

By Richard Millman

IF THERE EVER was any question that Michigan will be a political battleground in this 1990 election year, it evaporated with reports of how much money various candidates and would-be candidates have raised so far.

And this is a full 10 months before the November election.

The governor's race tops the agenda in Michigan, with Gov. James Blanchard and Republican challenger Sen. John Engler already busy as partisan beavers.

Filings of candidate fund-raising and expenditures are required by law intermittently in the pre-election period. Most recently they were due Feb. 1.

Gov. Blanchard's report showed that his campaign committee began 1989 with $431,000 in the bank, and raised another $794,000 during 1989; the committee reported it spent $451,000, leaving a balance of $774,000.

Sen. Engler's report showed his campaign committee started 1989 from scratch and raised $769,800 during the year -- almost as much as the sitting governor. The Engler committee spent $293,000, leaving a year-end balance of $476,800.

In any league, that's a lot of bucks for both candidates.

HOWEVER, THAT'S NOT the whole story. Those are funds reported only by the two political committees, which are formal groups organized under legal structures.

Mr. Blanchard, as governor, also spent a lot of money during 1989 on official functions and activities, and the Blanchard staff in the capitol -- not the one in the campaign office -- also was busy, on official duties, of course.

All of that is perfectly legal and, for the most part, perfectly proper; that's just the way it is in our political system.... any incumbent has a tremendous, unmeasurable advantage over any challenger, simply by using the office he/she already holds.

This year in Michigan, however, the governor does not get a free incumbency ride. Mr. Engler, too, has an office from which to campaign, and he has used it to the fullest to promote himself and his efforts to become governor.

AS REPUBLICAN LEADER of the Michigan Senate, Mr. Engler has certain advantages at his command. He has a full staff as a senator, and much more as majority leader. The Republican members of the senate have a central staff (as do the Democrats), and those hands and talents are largely at the disposal of Mr. Engler as Republican leader. The same is true of the Democratic staff being at the disposal of the Democratic senate caucus, led by Sen. Arthur Miller.

These activities, of course, are not "political", no more so than comparable activities taking place daily in the governor's office and throughout the executive branch of state government, where agency heads (and their top non-career aides) owe their allegiance to the sitting governor.

Who can tell where press releases and speeches and research projects and polls and other such trappings of public office cross the invisible line between being proper activities of public office holders, and become instead questionable activities of political candidates, seeking either reelection or higher office?

It will take a wiser political Solomon than has appeared so far to draw an exact line.

In the meantime, the official campaign spending by campaign organizations represents only the tip of the iceberg on how much is spent on politics.

As for the rest of it, the taxpayers foot the bill.

Military Testing

"All the tests were carefully planned to impose no adverse impact on the environment," said Ronald A. Jacob, program director for Project Chicken Little. "They will be conducted in accordance with the current governing procedures of the Michigan Army National Guard at Camp Grayling."

The majority of the tests will be conducted Monday through Friday during daylight hours.

"One of the most significant facts of the project is the economical impact on the area," said LTC VanLiere.

Over the duration of the project, approximately 500 persons will travel to Camp Grayling. Some test personnel will come in three separate groups, stay for about two weeks and then leave as the next group arrives.

"Research and development activities at Camp Grayling have brought over $16 million to Michigan in recent years," said LTC Koppa. "With most of it staying in Grayling. It is one way Camp Grayling helps Michigan businesses, the state's economy and Northern Michigan without costing the state a penny."

Project Chicken Little is scheduled to return to Camp Grayling during the fall of 1991 to continue testing under summer conditions.

amounts to a lot of people missed."

"We feel as if we were really taken advantage of last census," said Morford. "They even missed the city treasurer. No one came back to pick up his census and he tried to turn it in through the proper channels but could not find any one to turn it in to."

To obtain the state and federal funds Crawford County is entitled to, Kitchen is urging everyone to be counted April 1st. If you plan to be out of the county, you can contact your township officials for help in being counted. Kitchen also said "snowbirds" who live in Crawford County at least six months should designate Crawford County as their home. They can do this even if they're filling out the census form in Florida.

The 1980 Census found 3,078 Crawford County homes seasonally vacant. If two persons each from just 25 percent of these homes listed Crawford County on the census as their home for more than 6 months, then local governments would have received an extra $380,133 for one year.

Kitchen said even snowbirds who have Florida license plates can be listed as Crawford County residents if they live here six months or more out of the year. She also said it was important to local governments to get college kids to put Crawford County as their home.

The 1980 Census counted only 9,800 persons in Crawford County. Grayling Township had more persons registered to vote than the census counted in the township. Beaver Creek took their own census and proved that the 1980 Census had undercounted Beaver Creek Township by more than 15 percent.

Crawford County protested the 1980 Census count but didn't have enough money to conduct another census to prove it wrong.

This time around, government officials are trying to get the word out how important it is to be counted. Besides being eligible for more state and federal funds, the 1990 Census will be used for apportionment of U.S. House of Representatives. State and local districts will also be redrawn if necessary.

Five out of six households in the county should

Viking Skiers Ranked 8th in State

The Viking Boys ski team finished 4th in the state's toughest league on Wednesday, Feb. 7th, at Schuss Mt., site of the Michigan Huron Shores League meet. No single league in the state boasts more top ten ranked schools, than the Huron Shores, says Viking Coach Mike Wieland.

Petoskey won the meet followed by Charlevoix, Harbor Springs, Grayling, Gaylord, Boyne City, Bellaire, Kalkaska and East Jordan.

Depth of talent is what helped the Vikings as eligibility, sickness, and falls took 4 of the top 6 Vikings out of the slalom results.

"We had a very good meet out of those racers that have worked hard all year for the opportunity that presented itself Wednesday," said Wieland.

"Tony Diponio, Jon Renaud, Chris Lehti and Andy Burkley are the boys that we used in slalom. John Jurkovich, Tony Diponio, Pete Oppermann and Jon Renaud were used for team score in giant slalom."

Individual places were Tony Diponio 5th in slalom and 18th in giant slalom. John Jurkovich 9th in giant slalom and 33rd in slalom. Pete Oppermann 19th in giant slalom and 28th in slalom. John Renaud 18th in slalom with 20th in giant slalom. Andy Burkley 25th in slalom, Chris Lehti 23rd in slalom and 40th in giant slalom. Shane Lovely finished off the running order placing 42nd in giant slalom.

The Viking girls were 7th in the 9 team race. Karen Febey placed 9th in slalom and 40th in giant slalom for 40th. Other skiers were Anne Petroskey 19th and 22nd, Tara Bertalan 28th and 32nd with Elissa Cox placing 38th in slalom and disqualifying in giant slalom. The girls meet was won by highly ranked teams just like the boys. Petoskey placed 1st followed by Boyne City, Harbor Springs, Charlevoix, Gaylord, Bellaire, Grayling, Kalkaska, and East Jordan.

The Vikings host the M.H.S.A.A. meet at Schuss on Thursday, Feb. 15th, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

GHS Spikers Win For Parents Night Crowd

Parent's Night was celebrated by the Girls Volleyball team with a victory over Onaway Monday, February 12, 15-7, 15-6, and 15-12.

Heather Pelton led serves with 21, Melanie Ojala had 12, Tammy Doby and Heather Stephenson had 9 each and Nikki Trenary was credited with 8.

The team's defense was led by Shannon Gizinski, Doby, Ojala and Stephenson.

Brown said the game was fun to play, allowing everyone healthy to contribute to the win.

"The girls felt good about their performance," she said.

Hope Hanger is back after being sidelined for most of the season, and Barb Green and Laurie Mier are on the injury list.

Electrical power problems at the Grayling High School gymnasium plagued the J.V. players during their game with Sault Ste. Marie on Saturday, February 10.

"It was an odd day," said Brown, "and even though the power problems were cleared up before the varsity played, it seemed to throw us off." Grayling lost to the Soo, 12-15, 10-15, and 9-15.

Brown said Grayling played well during three of their games, but did not take advantage of scoring opportunities because their serving was not consistent.

When winning, Grayling serves at 85 percent or better. On Saturday, Grayling served at 68 percent.

Pelton led serves with 18. Ojala had 12, Trenary 9, Stephenson 8, Margarita Perez and Tammy Doby 7, and Lisa Barber had 4.

At the net Doby was credited with 8 tips, 5 spikes and 7 blocks; Ojala had 2 tips and 21 spikes; Trenary 6 tips and 10 spikes; Stephenson 9 tips, 10 spikes and 12 blocks; and Perez had 5 tips, 11 spikes and 2 blocks.

Key defensive players were Stephenson, Ojala and Trenary.

Grayling hosted an aggressive St. Ignace team on February 8th, and although Grayling lost the match, 14-16, 8-15 and 9-15, Brown said

SPORTS FANS!

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You By Mark Sloan Sales Representative

Here's an amazing fact... There was once a big league baseball player who stole 30 bases and scored 33 runs but never came to bat! That player was Herb Washington who played for the Oakland A's in 1974 and 1975. He was a former track star who was signed to be just a pinch-runner. In his 2-year big league career, he appeared in 104 games, never batted, but scored 33 runs.

Strangely enough, the original basketballs used in basketball were NOT basketballs... When basketball was invented in 1891, they used soccer balls to play the game... So the first basketballs were really soccer balls.

Of all the major college basketball teams in the nation, which one has played in the post-season NCAA tournament the most times? Answer is Kentucky who's gone to the NCAA tournament 33 times... Next comes UCLA who's played in 25 NCAA tournaments, then North Carolina and Notre Dame who've played in 23 each, and Louisville who's played in 20.

See Mark Sloan for a great buy on the car or truck of your choice today! His broken leg is healed, and his pencil is sharp, so don't wait.

Vikings Beat Gaylord, Tie For First

The Vikings won one and lost one last week, but still managed to hang on to a three-way tie with Cheboygan and Charlevoix for first place in the Michigan Huron Shores Conference.

With only four games to go the MHSC standings are:

Grayling	7-3
Cheboygan	7-3
Charlevoix	7-3
Gaylord	5-5
Petoskey	5-5

Freshmen Win Three Straight

The Grayling Freshmen played a strong defensive game against the freshmen of Petoskey on Thursday, February 8, holding them to 11 points in the first half and allowing only 30 points for the game, beating them 45-30.

Mark Kraus led his team in points scored with 12 and 5 rebounds. Other points were made by: Jason Neeley with 10 points and 9 rebounds, Matt Gingerich 8 points and 4 rebounds, Steve Branch 8 points, Mitch McMillan 4, Mike Spencer 3 points and Matt Craig was credited with 2 rebounds.

Freshmen coach Bill Klinger said Mark Kraus, who has been improving with each game, played a strong game and contributed greatly to the Viking victory.

On Wednesday, February 7, Grayling traveled to Kalkaska and again played a strong defensive game that led Kalkaska to only four points in the first quarter and gave the Vikings the opportunity to go on to win, 54-45.

Neeley led the scoring with 16 points and 6 assists. Steve Branch followed with 12 points, Andy Lochner 7 points with 5 assists, Jeremy Bowers 5 points, Matt Gingerich 5 points and 8 rebounds, Kraus 3 points and 10 rebounds and Jeff Pahssen and Mike Spencer had 2 points each.

Klinger said it was a good win.

"Everybody got to play and contribute to the victory," he said.

Three Viking Freshmen scored in the double digit figures on February 1 against Roscommon helping Grayling bring home a 63-43 victory.

Gingerich led the scoring with 18 points, 9 assists and 6 rebound.

5-5, St. Ignace 4-6, Sault Ste. Marie 3-6 and Rogers City 1-8.

On Saturday, February 10, Grayling traveled to Gaylord for a make-up game cancelled on Jan. 26 because of inclement weather. The Vikings were able to come back and beat the Gaylord Blue Devils, 66-57, after suffering a miserable defeat the night before by Petoskey.

Varsity coach Tom Mills described Friday night's 60-45 loss to Petoskey as "disappointing" at the least.

"The problem was poor shooting on Grayling's part," said Mills. "We shot 2 for 12 from the three point range, 15 for 57 from the two point range and 9 for 28 (only about 35%) from the free throw line." Mills said the Vikings are capable of shooting 35 percent from the three point range.

Saturday night was a different story for Grayling. They shot better from the field even though they shot under 50 percent from the free throw line.

Mills said Grayling played with "good defensive intensity."

Gaylord held a slight lead at both the end of the first quarter, 18-10 and at half time, 28-25, but the Vikings came back in the second half to take a three point lead by the end of the third quarter and extend that lead to nine points by game's end.

Matt Branch led all Vikings in scoring against Gaylord with 17 points.

Shane Fraser followed with 15 points, 3 assists and 5 steals. Center Jim Abney scored 11 points and made 12 rebounds. Kirk Annis played a good game scoring 9 points and 2 assists for the Vikings and then grabbing 18 rebounds and steals. Scott Nicholas scored 6 points and Tony Doremire, Chad Bonamie, Eric LaForest and Jay Mertes scored 2 points each.

Shane Fraser led the scoring on Friday night against Petoskey with 17 points. Jim Abney made 11 points and 16 rebounds. Kirk Annis scored 9 points, was credited with 10 rebounds and 5 steals. Chad Bonamie scored 5 points, Eric LaForest 2 points and 7 rebounds, and Jay Mertes scored 1 point.

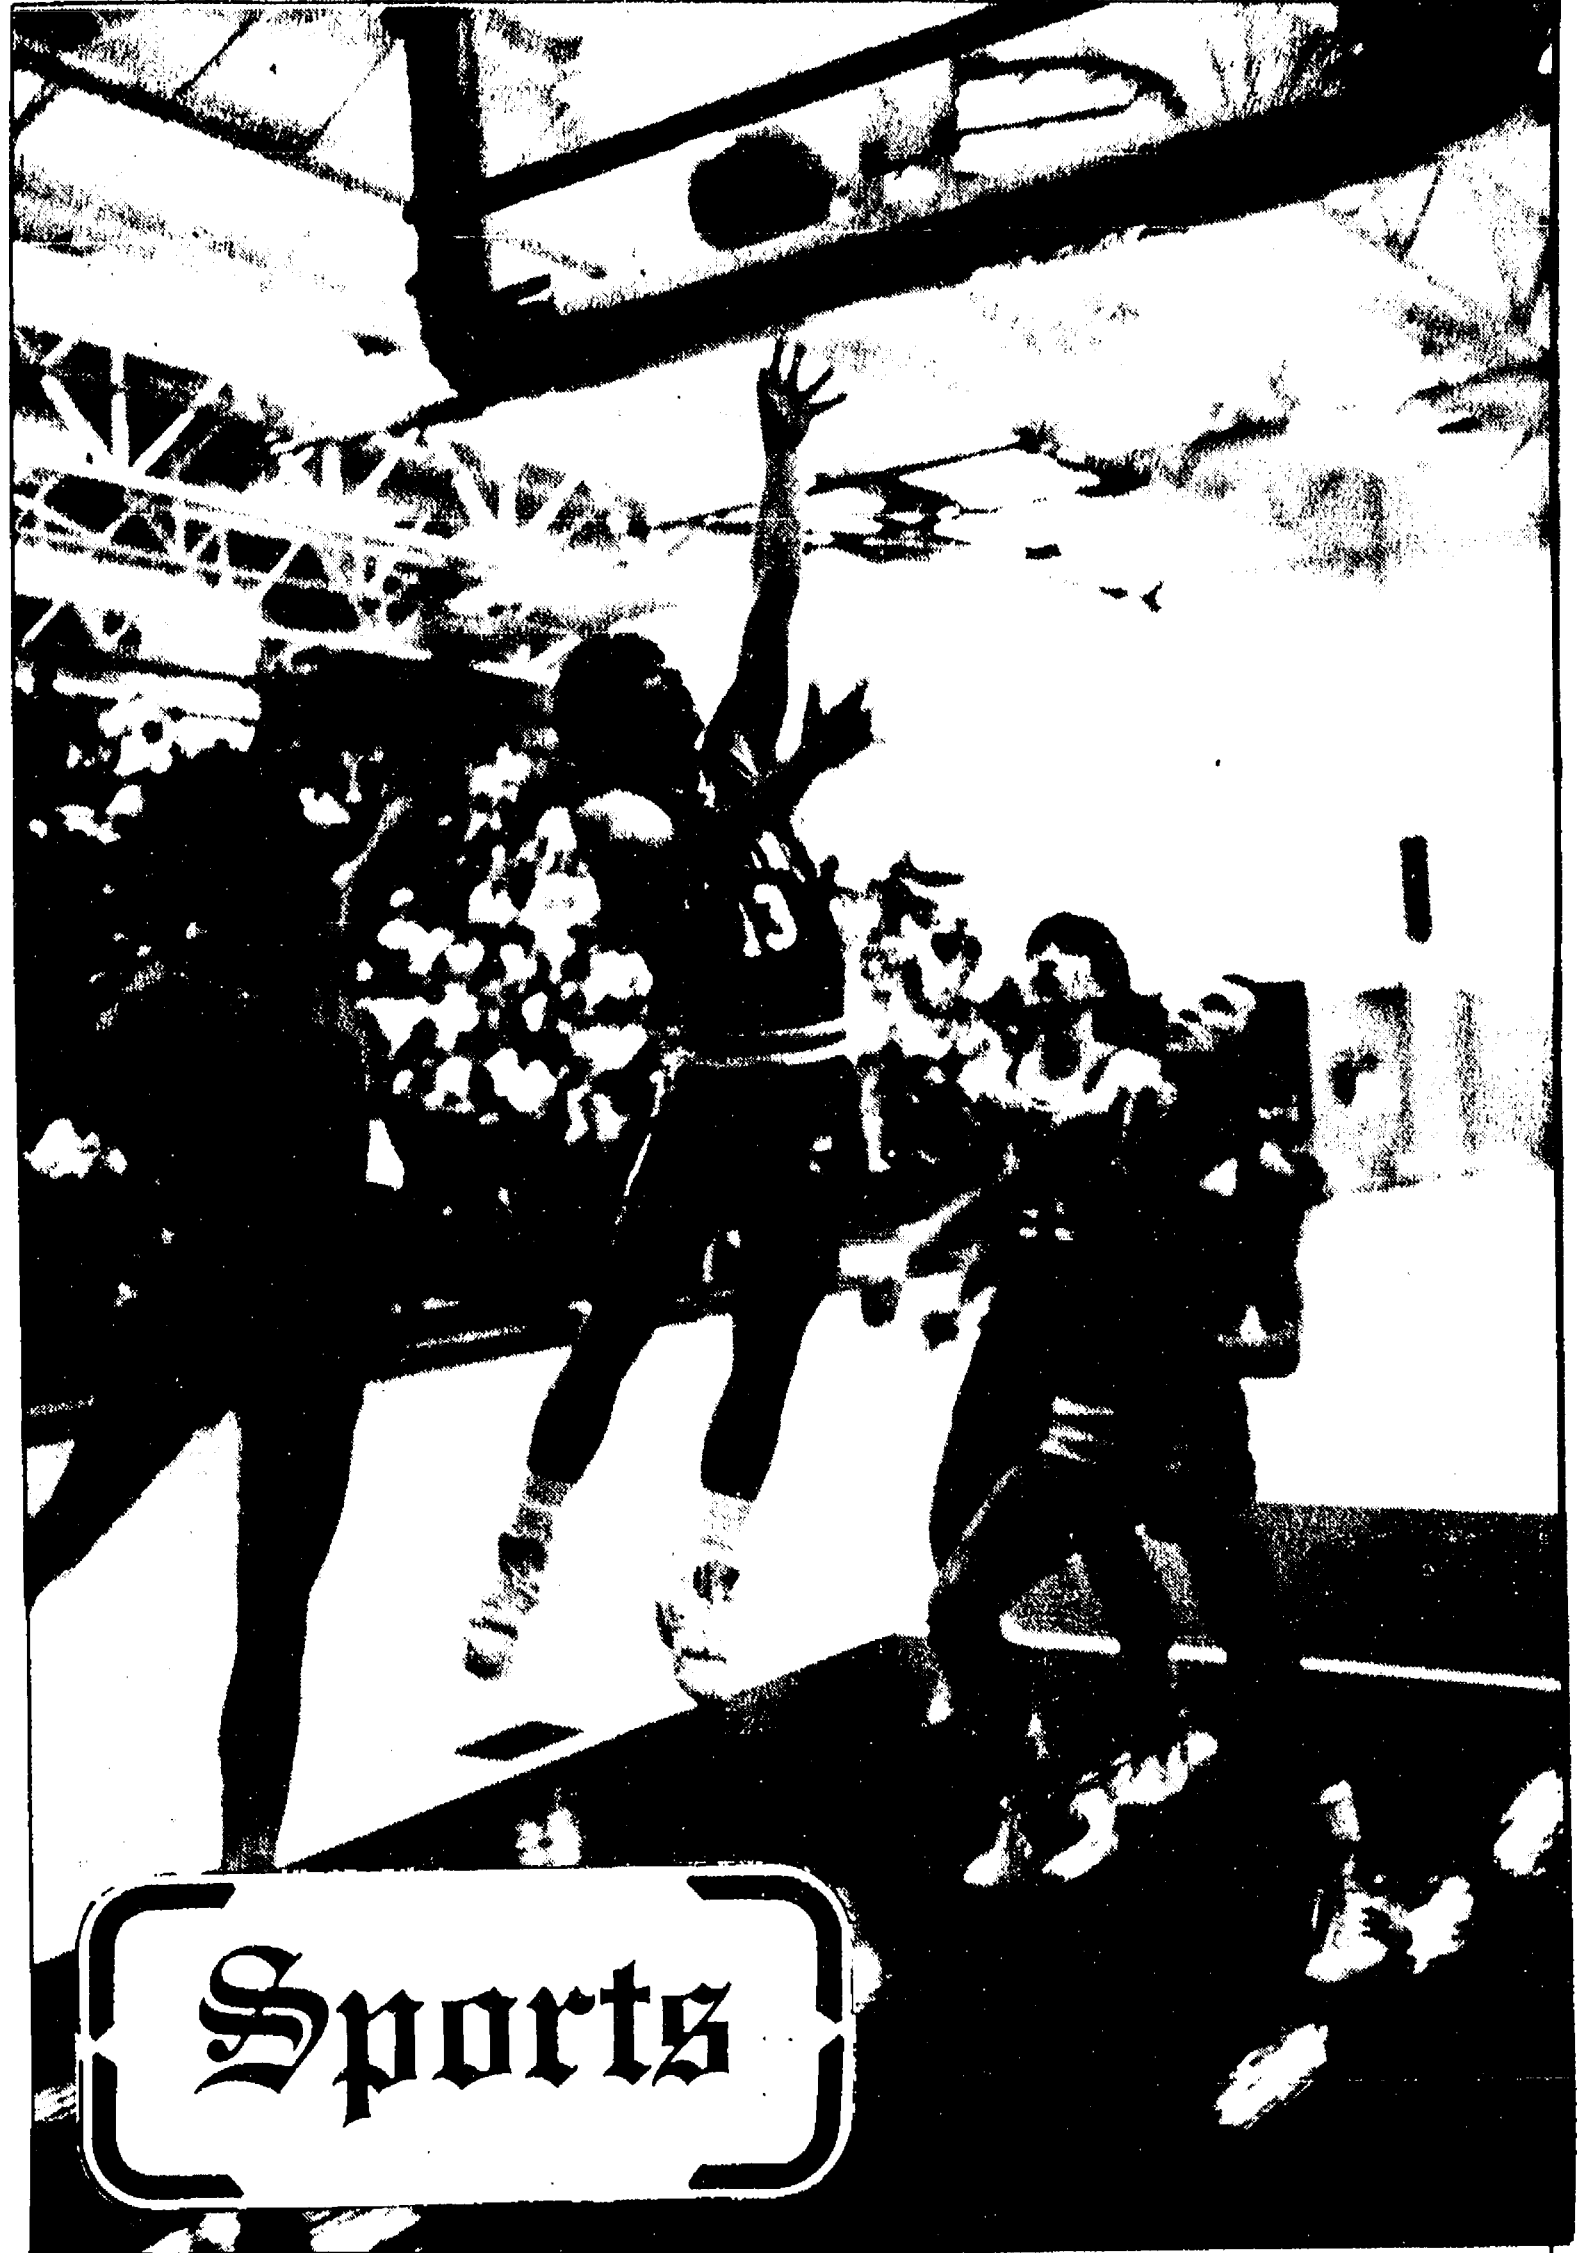

On Tuesday, February 8, the Vikings, leaders of the Huron Shores Conference met Roscommon, leaders of the Jack Pine Conference, and Roscommon called all the shots, beating Grayling, 64-38.

The Roscommon Bucks played a good first half and appeared to intimidate the Vikings taking a 22-11 point lead at the end of the first quarter. The half time score was even more disappointing, 38-17. The Vikings tried to come back in the second half, but Roscommon's lead was just too great.

Grayling shot 2 for 8 from the three point range, 15 for 54 from the field and 2 for 7 from the free throw line.

Jim Abney was high scorer for the Vikings with 20 points and 11 rebounds. Kirk Annis shot for 10 points and came up with 18 rebounds. Shane Fraser scored 5 points, Matt Branch 3 points and Tony Doremire finished with 2 points.

Grayling played Rogers City on Tuesday and will host Gaylord on Friday, February 18. Grayling travels to St. Ignace on February 23 and finishes its regular season with a home game against the Soo on March 2nd.

Gaylord Beats JV Team 76-31

The Grayling J.V.'s met Gaylord on Saturday night, February 10, for a make-up game and learned why the Blue Devils are undefeated, losing 76-31.

J.V. coach Butch Hayes said Grayling played good ball, but were simply outgunned by Gaylord, who played a hard man-to-man defense.

Mike Kirmo led Grayling's scoring effort with 9 points. Scott Haas and Ken Bindchatel scored 6 points each, Aaron Raymond 5 points and 5 rebounds, Mark Andrus 4 points and Eric Bonamie had 4 points and 5 rebounds.

Although the final score, 73-48, does not indicate it, Hayes said Grayling played a good defensive game against Petoskey Friday evening, February 9.

Grayling had a good first quarter, trailing Petoskey by only three points, 24-17, but then Petoskey began applying the pressure and by halftime led Grayling, 40-25. The second half belonged to Petoskey. The third quarter score was 57-31 and Petoskey went on to win on their home court, 73-48.

Haas scored 12 points for the Vikings and was credited with 5 rebounds. Kirmo scored 11 points, Raymond 8, Bonamie, double digits with 15. Bindchatel followed with 7, Kirmo 6, Andrus and Raymond had 5 each, Ormsbee 4, Bonamie 2 and Hebekeuser had 1.

The J.V.'s play both their Tuesday and Friday night games at home this week. On Tuesday the J.V.'s played Rogers City and on Friday they will be hosting Gaylord.

Haas was the only Viking to score in the Community Appreciates Return of GHS Players to Stage

CHARLEY'S AUNT—Sir Stephen Spettigue (Tony Jones) complains to Sir Francis Chesney (Matt Holtcamp) in Act I of the GHS players' performance of "Charley's Aunt".

If audience reaction can be used as a measure of success, then the Grayling High School Players' return to the stage on February 9 and 10, with their production of "Charley's Aunt", was a rousing one.

"This play is hilarious," enthused junior Mike McMillan at the Act II intermission. "I don't know how the actors can be up on stage and not laugh themselves."

Making the audience laugh was the principal mission of the ten GHS actors who made up the cast of the Victorian comedy, written by Brandon Thomas and directed by David Glicker.

"Charley's Aunt" is the first GHS Players production since the 1987-88 school year and with it, Mr. Glicker, an instructor in the English Department, has put together a core of actors whom he can use to rebuild the once large and exciting theatre department.

All of the actors are underclassmen -- five juniors, four sophomores and one freshman -- so they will have the opportunity to audition for this year's spring play and all of next season's performances as well.

Sophomore Josh Lepsy was amusing as Brassett, the butler who opened all three acts with either his tipsy behavior or his dry commentary on the odd behavior of his employer.

Air Force Sgt. Mary Clare Collen, daughter of Daniel P. and Mary E. Lawless of 982 Wedgewood Drive, Lansdale, Pa., has been named administration specialist of the year.

Collen is assigned with the 56th Tactical Training Squadron at MacDill Air Force Base, Fla.

Her husband, Air Force Sgt. Craig S. Collen, is the son of George and Carolyn Collen of Grayling, Mich.

Sophomore Bob

Hebel played Jeremy's pal and fellow student Charley Wykeham. Together the handsome duo were on stage for most of the play as they plotted a way to get their girls to Jack's Oxford rooms for a chaperoned luncheon after the intended chaperone fails to appear.

Their solution is to have a third friend, the penniless Lord Fancourt Babberly, impersonate Charley's aunt for the afternoon. Fannie, played by junior Dana Mirate, dons a dress and wig (over his massive frame and his polka-dotted boxer shorts), carries a fan, and bats his eyelashes in his successful attempt to convince the young women and their sponsor that he is actually a proper and rich Victorian matron.

Mistaken identity -- the notion of a man impersonating a woman -- generates the resulting humorous situations in "Charley's Aunt", and Dana obviously enjoys his role as the lead clown.

Initially, Lord Fancourt is reluctant to play the aunt and Charley and Jack's attempts to keep him from escaping were masterfully choreographed by Mr. Glicker and executed by the trio of Beroset, Hebel and Mirate.

Once into the part, however, Fancourt's game attempts at femininity (raising his voice's pitch, mincing awkwardly around the room, pursing his lips with disapproval), juxtaposed with his low-pitched, masculine pleas for assistance in carrying out the impersonation, are hilarious.

He jumbles the conversational cues that his friends surreptitiously feed him, nearly loses his wig, and forgets he is a proper lady at the luncheon table; but he nevertheless convinces the gullible guests that he is Charley's proper and wealthy aunt from Brazil.

Act I closes with a comic Tableau, as Fanny stuffs a Dagwood-sized sandwich he makes at the table into his mouth, while the other guests seem not to notice as they politely nibble on their meat and bread.

Jack and Charley's love interests are convincingly played by sophomore Angela Thompson (Kitty Verdun) and freshman Melissa Miller (Amy Spettigue) with ease, wit and charm. The poise which these two girls exhibit on stage is a testimony to their years of dance study.

Kitty and Amy's instant devotion to Charley's "aunt", manifested by shared confidences and flurries of kisses, cause the Oxford students great consternation and fits of jealousy. One hopes to see more of Angela and Melissa in future GHS productions.

Juniors Matt Holtcamp, playing Jack's doting father, Sir Francis Chesney, and Tony Jones, playing crotchety Sir Stephen Spettigue, vie with each other for "Aunt Lucia's" attentions. Both chase Fannie through the garden in Act II to propose marriage, if not because they are taken by her nonexistent charm and beauty, then because she is said to be extremely wealthy.

Deception is heaped upon deception in Act III, when Charley's real aunt, Dona Lucia D'Alvadorez (played gently and convincingly by junior Jennifer Garner) arrives with her ward Ella Delahay (played sweetly and charmingly by sophomore Niki Barnes).

When the aunt is introduced to herself, she decides to keep mum about her identity. Meanwhile, she discovers that Sir Francis is an old flame of hers, while Fancourt (still attired as the aunt) recognizes Ella as a girl he once knew and loved briefly.

In the end, true identities are revealed, plots are admitted and forgiven, and the four couples are united. Only Brassett and Spettigue remain unbetrothed and the play ends, of course, happily and humorously.

AIDS Update

As a community service we wish to share with you the latest statistics on the most dangerous communicable disease threatening our society. While Crawford County is still free of any reported cases of AIDS, prevention through education is important. You may know how to avoid contact with the disease by knowing those that have it, and how it has been transmitted. The Michigan Department of Public Health gave the AIDS Statistics as of December 1, 1989. It is from this report we present the facts.

Male homosexuals and intravenous drug users account for a combined total of 87% of the reported AIDS cases in Michigan. So the bulk of the disease is spread by perverted sex and dirty needles. Heterosexual activity accounts for the spread of only 3% of the AIDS transmission in Michigan. So, a common sense approach to avoiding AIDS would be to avoid perverted sex and drug abuse. The age groups most effected are 30-39 years at 43%, 40-49 years at 36.9%, 20-29 years at 18.4% and 50 years and above at 10%.

Sodomy was named after God's judgment upon homosexual sin in Sodom which resulted in death for the entire society because of this vile and wicked sin. (Genesis 18, 19). In the New Testament, sodomy is a result of a society which abandons God and His revelation. It becomes a society given up by God to their own lusts. "Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves: Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed forever. Amen. For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature: And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was meet." (Romans 1:24-27).

God says perverted sex is unclean, dishonoring, a lie, idolatry, vile affections, against nature, burning lust, and self-destructive. Had humanity believed the God of the Bible, they would not have experienced the self-destructive diseases of sodomy.

From Calvary Baptist Church

God honors but one form of sex - sex between husband and wife in marriage. All other forms of sex are sinful before God, destructive of the home, and self-destructive of the individual body. Don't be the first AIDS case in Crawford County, repent of all perverted sex and accept the shed blood of Jesus Christ for forgiveness of your sex sins.

As Valentine's Day approaches, our thoughts turn to love and to our commitment to those we love. We search for that very special gift. We write a poem or we search for that one card that is "just right."

God gave us the greatest gift of all... the gift of eternal life to all who believe in Him and have faith in His promise of eternal love for us, His children.

Show God that you appreciate His gift of love so freely given to us. Worship this week. Commit your life and your love to Him who first loved you.

Attention Snowmobilers

Operating a snowmobile on Railroad Right of Way is Not Only a Violation of State Law, but is also a Dangerous Act, which could lead to Personal Injuries! Each year Track Conditions, Especially at Road Crossings, are made Extremely Dangerous by Snowmobilers when snow is packed in between rails. This condition could cause a serious derailment.

Railroad Tracks and their Right of Ways are Patrolled. TRESPASSERS WILL BE PROSECUTED TO THE FULL EXTENT OF THE LAW!

Please ... Help make snowmobiling a safe winter recreation this winter. Stay off Railroad Right of Ways.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

The Department of Natural Resources has administered four recreational safety training programs for several years. Designed to educate young people to safely enjoy our state, these programs are meant to reach anyone from age 12 on who wishes to hunt, boat, or ride snowmobiles or Off Road Vehicles. Training includes first aid, use of map and compass, laws, proper use of equipment and ethics in an effort to decrease accidents, injuries, fatalities and environmental damage among resource users.

One of the major strengths of these programs is the use of volunteer instructors. For example, snowmobile clubs or businesses frequently offer a snowmobile safety course to enhance their sport and interests, the same as sportsman's clubs offer hunter safety classes.

This use of volunteer instructors is also one of the drawbacks of the safety programs. It seems as if there are a few extremely dedicated people who enjoy working with kids and teaching the courses, while most others do not get involved. This has resulted in a shortage of instructors and not enough classes being offered.

We are looking for people who want to help today's youth learn the safe way to enjoy our state's resources. If you would be interested in donating a few hours to this end, please contact your nearest Department of Natural Resources' office.

Poet's Corner Message Misuse

Why don't they phrase a Valentine.
Different from
"Will You Be Mine?"

That old cliché
is very trite.
It seems there's something more to write.

I've scanned the cards
on every rack.
I've read each choice,
then put it back.

I've been in almost fourteen stores.
And, not one card
says, "Make Me Yours."

Features

BLACK LAB MIX—Sally, so named because her ears reminded shelter staff of Sally Field's Flying Nunn habit, is about 5½ months old with a good disposition. She is partially housebroken and with a little supervision could be easily trained. Sally and all shelter pets can be seen Monday through Friday from 1-3 p.m. and on weekends from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Animal Care Tip

The Animal Protection Institute (API) cautions that in winter's tough weather, pets that are kept outdoors need minimum basics: a water supply that isn't frozen, a higher food ration (cold soaks up energy), and a water-free, ice-free, draft-free shelter in the right size.

The right size isn't huge and roomy; it's roughly one foot longer and three inches higher than the occupant. This allows a pet's own body heat to keep it warm under shelter.

...about your Social Security

The law requires that children who are age 2 or older must have a Social Security number if their parents claim them as dependents on the 1989 Federal Income tax return. (This is a change from the previous requirement that dependents age 5 and up have a Social Security number shown on the return.)

Of course, many parents have already applied for Social Security numbers for their children, since one is needed for a bank account, or savings bond.

But if your child is 2 or older, and does not have a Social Security number, you should apply for one as soon as possible. To get a number, fill out the application for (SS-5, available from your Social Security office, or most post offices and banks). Submit the application to Social Security with the child's birth record, and one other piece of identification. Examples of identification you can use for a child are a shot record, school report card, Medicaid card, or an insurance policy. Submit the documents and application to Social Security, and you can expect the child's Social Security card to arrive within 2 weeks.

It's important to know that Social Security can accept only original or certified documents, not photocopies. However, all documents are returned right away.

If your child already has a number, but you do not know what it is, and cannot locate the card, complete the same application form, and submit identification for your child. A duplicate card will be issued. The number will not change.

For more information, or to request an application form, contact Social Security toll-free at 800-234-5772.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Hartwick Pines Interpreter

The last snow storm and its deposit of ten plus inches of snow would have called for some extra work from a logging crew if the ten-week sled haul was to be completed before the spring breakup. The first snows of the season were carefully rolled flat and later groomed with a machine (referred to as a Cheboygan plow) that cut wide shallow grooves in the packed snow. Once the hauling roads were groomed to the foreman's satisfaction and the days and nights were consistently below freezing, the sprinkler sled crew would undertake the task of building up layer upon layer of ice to create the "iced sled road".

Once the hauling roads were prepared, the sled haul would start, but if any quantity of snow fell the sprinkler crew would clear the roads with the plow. The deeper the snow, the more horses that would be required. A Cheboygan plow sometimes required the combined strengths of eight horses to move it. If the snow was too deep for the horses to pull the plow, the crew would be armed with snow shovels. My father recalled working with a crew to clear over three feet of snow from two miles of sled road. A foreman hoped for early snows, cold-cold temperatures after Christmas and a late spring breakup.

Verse or Worse

By Joe Murphy

THE LITTLE BIRD

The little bird was nearly dead
As he huddled there in the cold
He was so cold and hungry
No song did his heart hold

Then came the tinkling of sleigh bells
Soon a horse and cutter passed below
The little bird was happy to see
Fresh horse apples on the snow

The little bird was soon huddled in their warmth
Pecking at the nice warm grain within
Their warmth and the warm grain
Soon drove the chill from him

The little bird flew back up in the tree
And trilled a happy song
Warm and with his belly full
It seemed nothing could go wrong

A hunting owl on silent wings
Heard that happy trill
The owl came swooping from the sky
And quickly made his kill

Now the moral of this story
As it looks from where I sit
Is don't do a lot of hollering
When you are full of it

A Look At Our Past

23 Years Ago
February 16, 1967

It was reported to the Avalanche Monday morning by Robert Bovee that Grayling High School's two semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship program, Lynn Elsey and Robert Jackson, had been moved to finalists.

U.S. Army, Vietnam (AHTNC)- Army Specialist Fourth Class James R. Pailing, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace L. Pailing, 401 Ogema St., Grayling, recently returned from "Operation Cedar Falls". The largest operation in Vietnam to date.

Fourteen Grayling High School vocalists will take part in an all day District Solo and Ensemble Festival sponsored by the Michigan School Vocal Association at the Pinconning High School this Saturday, February 18th.

They will be accompanied by their instructor, Howard Taylor. All vocalists must sing two solos of a different type on which they will be judged from one to four or excellent to good.

Those to make the trip are: Pat Christian, Julee Thayer, Terri Frinkle, Sandy Millikin, Marcella Millikin, Chris Southwell, Dena Bovee, Beth Millikin, Judy Smith, Karen Wedge, Janice Lavrack, Louella Millikin, Elva Ward, and Linda Springs.

The Grayling High Vikings, after splitting in two conference games last week, will be playing their final two games on their home floor this week. The green and white defeated East Jordan 89 to 75 here last Tuesday but lost to the Boyne City Ramblers there last Friday 73 to 65.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Bobenmoyer took their son Keith to Detroit Thursday where he left by plane for San Antonio, Texas to begin his basic training in the U.S. Air Force. The Misses Maric and Mary Bobenmoyer went to Battle Creek to visit their sister Karen for the weekend, stopping in Lansing to see some friends.

Big game bow hunting has received another shot in the arm from the Bear Archery Company.

Years of improvements and field testing under the most trying conditions and three years' experience in the application of high density material have led to the development of the ultimate bow, the Bear Super Kodiak.

Our City Council and Manager George Granger do not intend to string along behind when the time comes for projects. Among those formerly mentioned by the Avalanche is the building of a new and modern city hall. It has been recognized for several years past that such an edifice is needed here. Accordingly, when the former site of the Burrows Market on the corner of Michigan Avenue and Peninsular Avenue, was offered for sale, it was purchased by the city with the intention of using it for a city hall. It fitted in very well with tentative plans drawn up by the city authorities at that time. Conditions have changed since then; it has been found to be too narrow to accommodate a new plan. What could be more adequate than a site in the Waterworks Park near the water tank? The landscape there is beautiful, and there is ample room. Besides, it affords the location of the new city hall on the main highway-

US-27 "Michigan's Main Street".

Trailing 26 to 12 at the start of the fourth quarter last Friday night on the local gym floor, the Grayling High basketballers broke loose in a surge that carried them to within two points of tying and three of victory over Charlevoix High. The final score was Charlevoix 26, Grayling 24. This was the final home game of the season. In the preliminary game, the 8th grade easily defeated the 7th grade, 52-12. At Boyne City Tuesday night, Grayling lost its third conference game 25-21. The Reserves also fell, 29-11. Tomorrow night the Grayling High squads will play at Kalaska.

A pleasant surprise party was given in honor of Miss Louise Feldhauser, last Wednesday evening. Miss Louise, a graduate nurse, is leaving to enter the Army Nurse Corps.

James Kolka, S1-c of the U.S. Navy, is enjoying a furlough visiting his father, Joseph Kolka and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Feldhauser have received word that their son Donald has been promoted to the rank of Corporal. Don is serving with the U.S. Marine Corps. in the Pacific area.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams are the happy parents of a daughter, Judy May, born February 9 at Mercy Hospital. There is one other girl, and four boys in the Williams family.

Pfc. Ross Thompson is home on furlough, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Thompson. He came from Las Vegas Airfield in Nevada, and returning will report at Salt Lake City, Utah, on Feb. 24. He makes a fine looking soldier and we'll wager he is a good one.

A New recruit at the U.S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., is Robert Charles Smock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Liland Smock of this city. He is now undergoing boot training, being indoctrinated into Navy life and being instructed in seamanship, military drill and naval procedure.

Robert Kaiser left Frederick on Wednesday to enter the Navy.

Marie and Howard, twin children of Mr. and Mrs. Holger Schmidt, celebrated their birthday last Friday by entertaining a number of their young friends.

A most attractive and delicious valentine luncheon was participated in by forty-two ladies at the home of Mrs. C.R. Keyport Monday afternoon. The affair being given by Mrs. Keyport and Mrs. C.A. Joseph held the high scores.

Miss Helen Ziebell was hostess to fourteen of her girl friends Friday evening at a valentine party. The young ladies spent a very pleasant evening.

Tuesday Frank Dreese

purchased the lost back of the Kraus Dry Goods store from Thomas Cassidy and will erect a building for a store. Mr. Dreese says he will open with a stock of ladies' wearing apparel.

Word was received by Mr. and Mrs. Peter L. Brown last week announcing the birth on Monday, January 31st, of a daughter, Enid Elaine, to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brown of Los Angeles, Calif.

The Board of Trade will observe Washington's birthday with a banquet at their club rooms Tuesday.

A meeting of the Parent-Teacher club was held at the schoolhouse Tuesday evening. The following were elected: President, Mrs. Eita Phelps; Vice President, Mrs. O.P. Schumann; Secretary, Mrs. Miss Kathleen Parr. Subject of the March meeting will be "School Ground Equipment" for which a considerable sum of money is now on hand.

River House Staff Remind Us 'Love Shouldn't Hurt'

On Valentine's Day, the volunteers and staff of River House would like to share some very special thoughts with you. Although we are a domestic violence shelter, we do hear positive and loving thoughts and statements on a regular basis, especially from the children.

Recently, at one of our children's support group meetings, the children were asked to define love and to draw pictures that represent love to them. While we can't identify the children by name, the following are some of their answers:

One child said, "Love is caring." When asked, "How do you care for someone?" she said, "By cooking and cleaning for them."

"Love is my mom giving me a kiss."

"Love is my mom cleaning and cooking, and hugging me."

One young child said that "Love is giving me money." When questioned further, the child explained that after his dad yells at him, he sometimes feels bad and gives the little boy money.

"Love is taking someone to a beautiful place that they like."

The children were asked how friends show love. One of the most interesting answers was, "When they say, 'Okay, We'll do it your way.'"

When the children were asked if a person can love himself, they said no.

Hopefully they will learn through the support group activities that to love others you must first be able to love yourself. If we can help the children develop a positive self image, maybe they will grow up not needing to hurt or belittle someone else in order to feel good about themselves, and maybe they will grow up to be adults who don't allow someone to hurt them or their children.

This Valentine's Day, think about those you love. Listen to yourself and watch their expressions when you speak to them and be aware of how you treat them. Remember that your children learn from what they observe. If you think there is a problem, please call for help.

Our crisis line is 348-8972 and we are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Collect calls are accepted. If you have a specific need regarding parenting, you can also obtain crisis counseling or referrals to various community or statewide programs by calling Parent Helpline (sponsored by Gateway Community Services of East Lansing) at 1-800-942-HELP.

This Valentine's Day, please remember that LOVE SHOULDN'T HURT.

Correction

In last week's issue, the Avalanche mistakenly listed Feb. 23 as the next meeting date for a new group formed to help animal shelters in Crawford and Roscommon Counties.

The group met Feb. 13. Anyone wishing more information about the group should call Betsey Mitchell, 348-8624.

Thank You

A very special thanks to my family and friends who really surprised me for my 50th surprise party. Again thanks to John Huss, Sheriff Hatfield and officer Lovely for their part.
